Important Message Regarding Nut Allergies

There are students in the CV schools who have a severe allergy to nuts, peanuts and peanut products. The allergy can be life-threatening, and strict avoidance is the only way to prevent an allergic reaction.

In an effort to provide a safe learning environment for these students, we ask that you do not send in any foods which contain these items: nuts, peanuts and/or peanut butter, for your child to snack on during the school day. Peanut/nut products may be in your child's lunch, but they must be eaten in the cafeteria, and not in the classroom, hallway, school bus, sporting events or field trips. Your cooperation in this matter is greatly appreciated.

Message from the Superintendent

Dear CV Community,

Welcome back to another exciting school year! 2018-2019 will be one of our best years yet!

We are excited to see all of our students and families returning eager to learn and ready to become involved in the various activities and athletic offerings we have here at CV.

We had a busy summer with facilities improvements and many summer programs. Our community continues to shine with beautiful facilities and the current project is bringing them to the next level.

As we review our data from the previous year, we have many celebrations. We have increased our proficiency and mastery in many areas, as well as increased our graduation rate. We have also met our district goal of student involvement in the numerous activities we have to offer. Based on research, we know that when students and families are connected to school, students are more successful. Our staff continues to work hard in these areas of celebration, as well as analyzing areas that need continued attention for improvement. One thing is for sure, CV is a district to be proud of with our staff, facilities, and community!

As always, if you have any questions or concerns during the school year, please contact your child's building principal for assistance. You may also contact our Assistant Superintendent Michelle Feyerabend or me for support and guidance.

Wishing everyone a wonderful school year!

Sincerely,

Dr. David P. Gill
Superintendent of Schools

Board of Education President's Message

Kelly Warwick, President
Board of Education

The anticipation of a new school year is always filled with mixed emotions. This year is no different. We have many students who anxiously await the return to routine, friendships and the opportunity to learn. Our summer programs have grown over the years and I am pleased to report that there were many different ways for students to stay active over the summer, both physically and mentally. We will continue to look at how to keep and enhance these opportunities. Over the summer, a great deal of work was also done on our buildings and grounds. We completed some beginning work on the capital project that voters approved on December 5, 2017. Thanks to a timely review by the State Education Department, we were able to get the bids in and get to work. Port Dickinson has a new roof and sidewalk area, Chenango Bridge has a new parking lot, the MS/HS back drive and softball field parking area has been redone and, after a small setback due to the ridiculous amount of rain we had, our stadium lights have been installed. It's always a joy to see the community come together to watch the kids play a game under the lights. Bonus: A win!

I am honored, as Board President, to be able to address and welcome back the faculty here at Chenango Valley. This year, I asked some students to join me for an Opening Day presentation. Some I knew and others I met that morning. It was a humbling experience. These students spoke so eloquently and their words were inspiring. It is obvious that they know there are so many people working hard to make sure they receive the best educational experience possible. They thanked administration, support staff, teachers, nurses, guidance, transportation, food service and maintenance. Our kids know the importance of community and togetherness. I believe they are our common bond - our common hope. The board is so very grateful, as well, that our faculty continues to show up for our kids.

Our Chenango Valley family has experienced two devastating losses over the past couple of weeks. I do not have the words to make everything ok. I can't pretend to know how to process this. It's difficult to figure out how to help at times like this. I can, on behalf of the board, offer our sincerest sympathies and our never-ending support of our community members, students and faculty. We are here.

I hope the upcoming school year is filled with promise and success. May we continue to support one another and work hard for our littles. I assure you the decisions made, both big and small, will be thought out and we will always keep our mission in mind.

Sincerely,

Kelly Warwick
President, Chenango Valley Board of Education

CV Summer STEAM Program Provides Education, Inspiration

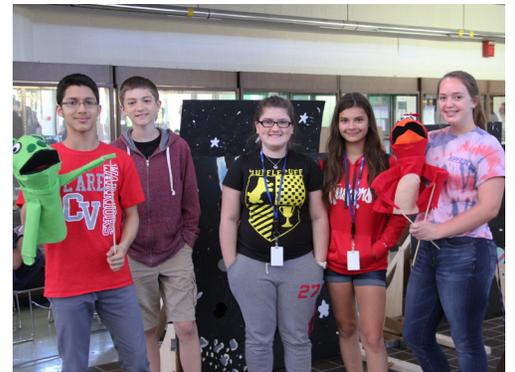

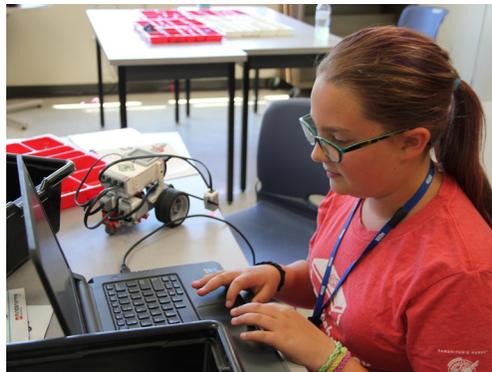

This year's CV Summer STEAM Program focused on the theme of "nature"! To extend this exciting educational opportunity to even more students, the program was held in two separate two-week sessions this year. During these sessions, students entering grades 1 - 6 were able to take part in a variety of informative, fun and interactive activities! The grade 1-2 groups participated in experiments including bubble blowing, tornado in a jar, and handmade mini parachutes to help them learn about wind; making baking soda volcanoes; and testing the symmetry of different items found in nature -- just to name a few projects! Student participants in grades 3-4 took part in activities including seed dispersal challenges, "Animal Riddle Relays" with the grade 5-6 group, and WBNG's Storm Track 12 Meteorologist Mr. Brian Schroeder was even able to stop by and talk with a session of students about weather-related topics! The grade 5-6 groups became "Animal Avengers" during this program. Using a 3D printer, students created prosthetic parts to help an animal character of their choice. They also researched information on their animal and worked in teams to write a story about how the prosthetic part helped their chosen character.

We're so excited to be able to offer this educational experience and engage our CV student learners, even during the summertime!

BOCES Summer STEAM Academy Expands Skills and Knowledge

Chenango Valley Middle School and High School students were among students from around the area who had a great time taking part in the BOCES Summer STEAM Academy! During the first week of the two-week program, middle school participants worked on exciting robotics activities at the BOCES campus including programming for an obstacle course, Indie 500 programming, and other exciting challenges to test their skills and knowledge! At SUNY Broome, high school students took part in activities including developing designs for a cardboard boat race held in the Chenango Valley High School pool, and a carnival event that students themselves created the games for (including mini golf and puppets)! In the second week, the groups switched campuses and the middle school students engaged in activities at SUNY Broome, while the high school students tested their skills at the BOCES campus.

Three different sessions were held daily, Monday through Thursday, up until August 9. During their time in the program, students also participated in "Theme Weeks" to focus on specific topics in athletic training -- such as mindset and leadership skills. At the end, students were retested on their growth and improvement. Awesome job to all who took part!

CVCS D Hosts Safety Training Exercises

In an ongoing and continuous effort to keep the safety of our schools a top priority, Chenango Valley Central School District worked with public safety officials and additional community partners on safety training exercises on July 13.

In collaboration with members of Broome-Endicott SWAT, the morning began with an active shooter training drill held in Chenango Valley High School. The drill included staff and student volunteers. Observers included representatives from Chenango Valley administration and public safety officials.

Following the active shooter drill training, a tabletop exercise was held in the Chenango Valley Middle School/High School library. The exercise was facilitated by Michael Ponticciello, Director of Broome County Emergency Services, and Michelle Feyerabend, Chenango Valley Central School District Assistant Superintendent. Discussion included a review of the active shooter drill, plans that worked, and what can be improved. It also included further discussion on topics such as evacuation procedures, parent and child reunification, public information, and psychosocial impacts.

Agencies that participated in the tabletop exercise included representatives from Broome County Emergency Services, Broome-Endicott SWAT, the Broome County Sheriff's Office, EMS, the Red Cross, the Broome County Office, Broome County Mental Health, NYS DHSES Office of Emergency Management, and the Broome County Promise Zone. Chenango Valley administrators, staff, SROs, and safety team representatives also took part in the conversation.

The goal of this training was to focus on a review of existing response plans and the functions of each agency during public safety incidents. The collaboration between school personnel and public safety officials is part of ongoing work to help ensure a unified response in the event of a potential incident. The intent is to continue this type of drill and tabletop exercise with external parties annually in the future. Throughout the school year internal tabletop exercises are also held with school resource officers and internal safety teams.

Chenango Valley is grateful for this collaboration with community partners to help in the continuous efforts to keep our schools and community safe.

Mental Health First Aid Training Held at CV

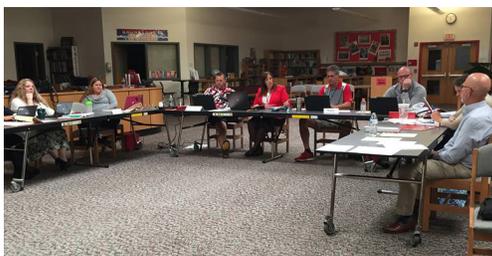

Chenango Valley Central School District staff members took part in a Mental Health First Aid training led by CV Social Workers Ms. Arnold and Mrs. Hubenthal on July 19.

The program teaches individuals ways to help someone in a crisis or experiencing a mental health challenge. Workshops were also held during the 2017-18 school year. Additional workshops will continue to be held throughout the 2018-19 school year and next summer, with the goal of having 100 percent of Chenango Valley staff members trained on Mental Health First Aid.

Professional Development Provides Staff Exciting Learning Opportunities

Various CV staff professional development training programs took place this summer -- including workshops such as A.P.L. Associates, Les Loomis, OPALS training, and more. Our Chenango Valley teachers and staff love to learn new things and grow in their fields! Thank you to those who helped to teach this important information to our staff members!

District News

We will make every effort to honor your request; however, please be aware that there may be circumstances when your child may be photographed or filmed beyond our control. We suggest discussing your wishes with your child so that he/she knows your preference for non-inclusion in photos/video.

Students Attend Research Workshop at Binghamton University

Chenango Valley High School students built upon their scientific skills as they took part in a workshop through the Freshman Research Immersion program at Binghamton University. Elizabeth Morgan, Grace Elliott, and Dominick Lomonaco attended a "Geospatial Remote Sensing Multispectral Workshop" with Mrs. Ginalski on July 7.

The workshop included a visit to Binghamton University's Nuthatch Hollow site, and discussion on topics including tree/plant health, water quality, and multispectral imaging. Data was also collected with a drone and hand-held spectrometer. This data was processed and students learned about data interpretation, and analyzed and discussed results. The day also included a poster session, debriefing, and post-learning assessment.

Students Share Helpful Advice for Incoming MS/HS Students

Transitioning from one school to the next is an exciting chapter in students' educational careers, but it can also come with some unfamiliarity and anxiety. Chenango Valley students helped to calm those nerves with some inspiring messages put on the lockers of incoming middle school and high school students.

With messages such as "Spread kindness EVERYWHERE" and "Always be yourself," last year's seniors created messages for each incoming freshman in their 12th grade English classes — and seventh and eighth grade students wrote them for incoming sixth grade students through their character education program "Warrior Strong" (formerly known as Olweus). These inspirational messages started years ago as a way to encourage students through what can be a stressful time.

We hope that these words of kindness helped to inspire the younger students, and that all students keep these positive thoughts in mind as they venture through the school year.

Through events, such as the Alumni Recognition Reception (see photos from the 2018 event in the next Newscaster), the mission of the Chenango Valley Alumni Association is to preserve and promote the learned ideals, shared traditions, and rich history of the Chenango Valley Schools, and to strengthen intellectual ties and promote scholarship opportunities and other financial assistance for the mutual benefit of current students, the Alumni, and the CV Community.

Mural Helps to Make a 'Paws'itive Impact

Artists from Chenango Valley and Whitney Point Central School Districts worked with Broome County officials to help beautify a fence at the Broome County Dog Shelter over the summer.

"I think it's great that they all give back to their community," said Broome County Legislator Cindy O'Brien, who helped to implement the creation of the mural. "It gives them an even greater sense of community pride."

With a bit of paint and some helping hands, progress was quickly made to create a radiant mural featuring fun cartoon characters (including people, dogs, and other animals) and a "welcome" display.

"I enjoyed working on the mural last year at the school and, of course, I love dogs -- so I thought this would be a great combination," said Chenango Valley High School student Kayla Ferris. Ferris said she hoped the mural would help to get more dogs adopted.

"It's nice to get the kids involved and highlight their talents, while helping the community," said Chenango Valley art teacher Karen Krawczyk, who assisted in the painting process.

On August 31, a press conference was held to recognize all involved for their dedication and care. Broome County Executive Jason Garnar noted that this mural was a, "Great way to collaborate with students and have their talents on display for years and years to come."

Those who help to run the shelter expressed an abundance of gratitude.

"Thank you to everyone for making this happen," said Broome County Dog Shelter Manager Kelly Conlon.

The dogs who are currently being housed in the shelter seemed quite happy about their new mural, and its potential to help them find a forever home, as well.

CV Summer Arts Program Paints a Positive Picture of Kindness

Working off of the ideas of CV's Power of Kids' Kindness (P.O.K.K.) project, the first annual Chenango Valley Summer Arts Program began on July 16. The goal of this program was to promote positivity and kindness in a creative manner. During the program, students created beautiful multi-media mosaics with inspirational messages. They also wrote and produced a puppet show to perform for first grade students participating in the CV Combined Civic Summer Fun Program. The motivational presentation included a new student who was being bullied by another student. In the end, the bully realized he was wrong for bullying another person out of jealousy, and changed his ways to become friends with the new student. The play wrapped up with the puppets singing, "Kind, kind, kind. It's important to be kind." Summer Arts participants asked the younger students to always remember the importance of being kind and doing the right thing. During the puppet show, the Summer Arts participants' inspiring art creations were displayed to help reinforce their message. After the presentation, the Summer Fun students were even able to create puppets of their own to help spread positivity!
