4. Agenda Item #1: Mid-year testing data review. MS data indicates minimal progress, however may be due to a focus on writing and AIMSWeb does not measure writing. There was also student mobility in and out of District. Chenango Bridge data was positive, overall. Port Dickinson also showed improvements. Spring data will analyzed and teachers will participate in professional development to work with data. They will receive in-house testing data as well as State testing data for both the students they have this school year and those that will be in their classrooms for the 2017-2018 school year. Math and ELA coaches will be in place next year for added support.

5. Agenda Item #2: Attendance Discussion. Data was presented for support staff and teacher absences and was broken down by reason. There is continuing concern that teachers are out of the classroom too much. We looked at the data and decided to discuss with the Board as a whole. It will continue to be an area of focus.
