DISCUSSION: A general discussion was held analyzing possible explanations for the defeat of the Transportation Proposition. The date of the next possible vote was also discussed. Mrs. Ticknor reported that the number of bus drivers and bus monitors is now acceptable. This is good news. We also discussed some current student conduct issues and a minor bus accident where a fender ~~scrapped~~ scraped a guard rail causing about $300 in damage. The major issue, however, was the partial results of a recent N.Y.S. Transportation Dept. audit. Evidently, our own department still struggles with paperwork completion and ~~the~~ ^{due dates} ~~dates~~. Much of this is due to poor record keeping by previous directors. Nevertheless, fines may be assessed due to a combination of current and past ~~inadequacies~~ miscues.

Cont'd. DISCUSSION: A second audit team will arrive on January 14th to complete their inspection of CV Transportation files. We will have a clearer understanding of organizational weaknesses and possible penalties at that time.
